Rise Again

The voice is rising on this land
No more silence by deceitful men
The past is gone
Today has come

The lying spirit tried to hold you down
But God is saying you will wear a crown
So come

First Nations rising to this land
Change the earth
The voice of God will speak through you and he'll be heard
You'll rise again

Jesus knows all the pain you bare
He took your sorrow on the cross in prayer
Healing flows, for you to share

Freedom reigns in the hearts of men
When we surrender cry to God again
So come

Chorus

Let the dreams within you rise up again
You'll soar like eagles across this land
Humble hearts
We must stand

Forgiveness flows deep within your heart
Let generations be healed from strife
So come

Chorus
